Multiple Projects Add up to Delays between Redding and Burney

REDDING – The California Department of Transportation (Caltrans) advises motorists that numerous roadwork projects along State Route 299 between Redding and Burney will cause delays and drivers should plan extra time to get to their destinations.

Beginning Monday, September 11th, motorist traveling SR299 between Bella Vista and Ingot will encounter one-way traffic control with pilot car through a construction/cone zone re-pavement project. Traffic control will run September 11 thru September 17 from 6:00 am to 9:00 pm. Drivers should anticipate delays of 15-20 minutes.

Vehicles traveling SR299 corridor between Redding and Burney should anticipate total delays of up to 40 minutes due to multiple projects.
